VIA's services are designed to get riders to their destinations as quickly and easily as possible. Some of the routes have buses that come by the stops more frequently than others. VIA uses colors to distinguish this route "frequency". In addition, some buses stop at many places along the route, while others have limited stops or travel express along highways with no stops. The dash route line identifies these "Skip" or "Express" routes. Use the chart below as reference when considering which route works best for you.
